

"A Women's Journey"
The Art of Fabrication

Featuring the Welding Art of Jay Stargaard
RECEPTION SEPTEMBER 16, 2011
6:00PM - 8:00PM

Jay Stargaard started TIG welding in the summer of 2004 and completely, head over heels, fell in love with it. She built her studio on the land next to her home in the spring of 2005, and has been creating artwork there ever since. Jay's sculptures are created from recycled and found materials including rock, wood, water, stainless steel, copper, bronze and mild steel. Each individual piece of art created in her studio has its own unique energetic essence, so when it takes its final form it is distinctively different than any other.
